

The Wasted Times Contest

What would Don Henley have to say to Chynna Phillips? Just fill in the bubbles with your creative idea. The winner will receive an all expense paid trip to see the Eagles at the Rose Bowl on October 8....oops, well, we'll work something else out. Either e-mail or snail mail your entry.

A Headline With No Clever Eagles or Other Bird Pun!

Aren't y'all irritated by all of those headlines from this summer? You know, Birds of a Feather...Eagles Soar Again...The Eagles Have Landed. Well, the Wasted Times promises that you will never see any of these kinds of media ploys in our pages. In fact, we will even refrain from signing off with Take it Easy! or (an easy one to fall into down here) On the Border... That's right. We promise you fresh, insightful and easy to swallow Eagles news and views. That is...if we have help from you. We need your comments and submissions. As you can see from this first issue, our standards aren't very high. We'd like to include news, review, and even personal encounters in future issues, so send 'em in. In case you don't already know, we can be reached at CCKV18A@Prodigy.com or IVYRAIN@aol.com. If you'd rather mail it, send it to L&M, 600 Toronto #29, McAllen, TX 78503
